

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!

How to Register at Blogger

You likely want to register simply to post a comment to our blog. It's a very simple process but not made clear by the prompts that you see.

1. Click on the Comment prompt at the bottom of the post you wish to comment.
2. The post opens into its own screen and at the bottom (below any existing comments) is another link. It says Post a Comment. Click on that link.
3. Yet another window opens indicating that you must be registered on Blogger to post to this blog.
4. Complete the registration. Decide whether to show or not show your profile and pick a name you want to appear on all of your comments. It can be your real name or a nickname.
5. Accept the Terms of Service (if asked).
6. Click on the continue button. You will be asked to create your blog. There's no need to do that. You are not creating a new blog if you simply want to be registered with Blogger in order to post comments to the F.A.C. blog.
7. You can quit the create your own blog screen. You ARE registered.
8. Be sure you have a record of your user ID and password.
9. Go back to the F.A.C. blog... and repeat Items 1 & 2 above. You may have to enter your user name and password.
10. Post away!

Enjoy!